JESD Administrators' Raises Illegal, DA Says

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The San Mateo County District attorney has informed Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank L. Greenwood the pay raise he and two other top administration officials received recently is illegal.

The Post learned late Tuesday that the district attorney, in his opinion, advised Greenwood and assistants Roger Barthuli and Vinton Stratton they must give up their two per cent pay raise along with all retroactive monies received and any fringe benefits accrued immediately.

Either the district must be refunded the pay, amounting to about $500 each, in cash or the three officials must adjust future salaries to reflect the return of the money.

Citing Education Code 938, the DA noted that any changes in the salaries could not be made until July 1, 1972 and each succeeding July 1 thereafter.

Last December, Trustees William Schumacher, Mrs. Beverly Forrester and Mrs. Dorothy Adams voted unanimously during a special meeting to grant certificated employees a two per cent pay hike retroactive to July, 1971.

Greenwood said it was his understanding and assistant Barthuli's, that the board meant for all certificated employees to be granted the increase. Greenwood, Barthuli and Stratton by necessity of the Education Code are certificated.

But an attorney general's opinion, dated October 1968, on the subject of such raises (68-216), specifically points out that for all intents and purposes a superintendent's raise is not connected with teachers. Administrators are dealt with on an individual basis.

The three school trustees have denied their intention was to include the administrators in the pay raise.

All three trustees (Trustees Al Collett and Edward Tomasello were absent from the meeting) said they were aware of the Attorney General ruling on the matter and did not intend to hike salaries other than those of teachers and classified employees.

Greenwood was out of town at the time of the special meeting and assistant Barthuli represented the superintendent at the special meeting.

The matter was brought to light when four members of the School Board voted on March 14, 1972 to transfer $157,700 from the undistributed reserve fund to the miscellaneous salary classification to cover all the (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

JESD Personnel Board Okays Boosted Budget

The Personnel Commission of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday approved its 1972-73 budget of $42,505 — an increase of some $9,000 over the previous fiscal year.

And the two-member commission, consisting of Mrs. Jeanne Kennaugh and Thomas Noonan, passed what amounts to a 29.3 per cent salary and fringe benefit increase to Personnel Commission Director David Pia.

Also included in the hefty hike was the commission's secretary, Mrs. Marie Bizzuela.

Both Pia and Mrs. Bizzuela's actual monetary increase amounted to 5 per cent.

The commission opened its public hearing on the budget to a full house at the JESD administration offices shortly after 8 p.m.

Pia informed the two commissioners of the need for the increases in various jurisdictions within the commission in a hastily read fact sheet.

The commission's action will now go to the San Mateo County superintendent of schools for routine approval. Funding of the commission comes from a special override tax paid for by Daly City citizens.

Mrs. Beverly Forrester, JESD trustee, questioned not only budget items covered by Pia, but also certain travel expenses and credit card expenditures made by commission members Kennaugh and Noonan.

Noonan ruled Mrs. Forrester out of order and informed her the hearing was "not a place to make a speech."

Later, Noonan said, Mrs. Forrester was out of order for bringing up certain expenditures made by the commission during travels.

Mrs. Forrester argued expenditures for travel were included on the new budget and therefore subject to scrutiny by the public.

Noonan challenged the trustee to bring charges against him and Mrs. Kennaugh if she could prove there was any mispending involving the commission's travels.

One woman in the audience, Mrs. Riva Krips, sided with Mrs. Forrester's arguments to have commission members explain the use of credit cards for phone calls outside the district.

"Listen, we're not going to have a circus here," Noonan said in gaveling Mrs. Krips out of order and threatening to have her removed from the crowded room.

Another trustee, Mrs. Dorothy Adams, said she will ask for a complete investigation of actual travel expenses by the commission.

Several persons were seen parading in front of the building carrying placards denouncing the commission's travel expenses. The picketing broke up when the meeting came to order.

Millbrae Boy Dies In Fight

A young Millbrae teenager is dead of stab wounds, and another injured with baseball bat blows to the head in a grim fight in a grove of sycamores.

Police said both boys were of good families, and without previous police records.

This was a no-core-city gang war, but a spontaneous death in a sun-favored suburb, a flurry of fatal anger resulting from teasing about girls.

Dead is Kenneth Cattaneo, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cattaneo of 241 Barclay Avenue. Injured, and to be accused of "voluntary manslaughter" for the stabbing of Kenneth, is David Vejmol, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Vejmol, 341 Palm Avenue.

The stabbing took place Friday afternoon, on sycamore-lined Taylor Boulevard, in full view of the $50,000 white stucco Spanish style homes and green lawns that typify the now shocked community of Millbrae.

"Oh my god, what have I done? I only wanted to scare him," was what David was sobbing when police arrived at 4:40 p.m. They had been called by several Taylor Boulevard residents.

Police Lt. Charles Loustalot said young Vejmol was weeping and despondent over the death. He had not been questioned because he suffered two blows to the head from a baseball bat, and is hospitalized.

According to a witness, another youth who was Kenneth's friend, the fatal argument started when he and Kenneth were playing baseball in a green field on Poplar Avenue, behind the Millbrae firehouse.

Kenneth, the witness told police, called out:

"Hey, there's the guy who takes the girl into the bathroom and bangs her head against the wall."

Police said this remark seems to have been an unfounded "playground remark," but it enraged young Vejmol.

He walked over to Cattaneo, and an argument followed.

Cattaneo swung the baseball bat, and hit Vejmol on the head, the witness told officers.

Then the witness jumped between the two, and broke up the fight, but got his shirt torn.

"You'll have to pay for my shirt," he told Vejmol.

"OK," answered David, "come up to my house and I'll give you the money."

The witness and Cattaneo waited outside, he said, with Cattaneo still holding the baseball bat. David suddenly burst out of the front door, holding a butcher knife.

The boy's mother was trying to restrain him, but Cattaneo and his friend ran down Palm Ave. (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Patrol Operator's Charge:

A Police Attempt to Put Him Out of Business, City Is Told

Pacific's former police sergeant Ray Karczewski, now that city's only security patrol operator, on Monday charged that a proposed ordinance regarding approval of private patrol employees is meant to put him out of business in Pacifica.

Karczewski read a three-page prepared statement on why the new ordinance should not be adopted, and further asked that the council initiate a "full and complete" investigation into the Pacifica Police Department's "unwarranted harassment and interference" with his business.

The council unanimously introduced the ordinance with minor modifications and told him to submit his accusations about the police department in writing to City Manager Jim Swayne, for individual councilmen to pursue if they so desire.

All members of the council were supportive of the police department, taking Karczewski's charges with several grains of salt.

Karczewski last year took his charges of harassment to the County Grand Jury. That body failed to follow up on the complaint. Last night Karczewski told the council that he was told by the foreman of the Grand Jury that Chief of Police Mel Nelson "showed a lack of confidence" (in Karczewski) but that there were no grounds for criminal action.

Karczewski said he was told at that time to bring the matter to his city council. "You won't even listen to me," he said. "I heard a lot of rhetoric about responsiveness of the city council at this last municipal election. I know personally that this doesn't exist," said Karczewski.

The ordinance, which would be an amendment to the city code, would require that prior to employment to a private patrol approval must be obtained from the chief of police.

An "investigation fee" of $10 will be charged. If within 30 days after filing an application the chief determines, "based on facts and evidence" that the proposed employee should not be hired, he is to advise the proposed employer in writing of that fact, giving his reasons why not.

The decision of the chief may be appealed to the council, and an interim permit may be issued pending the investigation.

If, "for reasons beyond his control," the chief is unable to complete his investigation within 30 days, a 10-day grace period will be added. And unless the chief acts in the negative within 40 days, the employee may be hired.

Karczewski said "nothing has happened to warrant a change in the existing ordinance. To create a new law for my company is suspect."

"I am seeking assistance (from the council) for the many wrongs that have been done to me since my retiring from the police department. I have been turned off each and every day. There's nothing more frustrating and disheartening than that."

Karczewski claimed that in two separate instances in the past prospective employees of his firm were pressured by the police department and city "into not entering my employ."

San Bruno Delays TV Vote

San Bruno city councilmen declined to act on a recommendation Monday night from Director of Public Works Leo Van Dusen that they employ a private firm to go door to door selling cable television connections.

The firm recommended by Van Dusen was NorCal CATV Co., a firm which he said was quite experienced in this kind of work.

Mayor George Corey asked Councilman John Barnard to confer with the city staff to see if a better way could be found to do the job, and to tighten up the proposed sales contract. He was asked to report back at the next meeting, May 22.

Van Dusen noted, in his recommendation, that new connections in the neighborhoods now served by CATV had slowed down to 20 to 30 per month, which was barely enough to keep the system ahead of the disconnections from people moving.

He said the cost of hiring the firm would be $20,000 per year, and estimated a profit of $27,000 at the end of the first year. The maximum out of pocket expense, he said, would be $1800, for income from sales would pay for the rest of the $20,000 cost.

Barnard raised the fear that under the proposed contract, when new neighborhoods opened up to cable television, the city would be obligated to pay commissions on the first batch of subscribers, who are just waiting to subscribe and hence require no salesmanship.

San Bruno's Aviation Week Starting

A week-long round of activities is being planned for San Bruno, in celebration of Aviation Appreciation Week, May 13-20.

Exhibits will be put on display in stores throughout San Mateo Avenue, Tanager Shopping Center, and other neighborhood shopping centers throughout San Bruno.

Starting off the week will be the 1972 San Bruno Beauty Pageant, slated for May 13, in conjunction with a scenic flight provided by Pan American Airways.

Corey Votes To Break 2 Bruno Ties

Mayor George Corey found it necessary to vote twice to break a tie over two controversial matters at Monday night's meeting of the San Bruno City Council.

The first issue was over whether different groups should get different treatment in use of San Bruno City Park for picnic facilities.

Polly Sandkulla, representing the Parks and Recreation Commission, recommended that youth-based groups and service groups pass inspection after their picnics are held, but that social groups, family groups and other organizations continue to pay $25 with no refund.

Mrs. Rose Urbach objected to local groups such as the Italian-Catholic Federation having to pay the $25 fee.

"We all pay our taxes," she declared.

Mrs. Sandkulla replied that since the fee started, it has eased the load on the staff immensely.

The Council finally voted to refer the matter back to the Recreation Commission to study the proposal to make the refund available to all San Bruno residents, and then to make a fresh recommendation to the council. They split 2-2, and Corey then voted "yes."

The second issue was the proposal to name City Park Diamond 1, "Tom Lara Stadium."

Councilman Neil Christal re-

Pacifica's Lawsuit View Is Coming

An official press release has been prepared by Pacifica officials to give the city's view on a recent lawsuit filed by the Building Industry Association, seeking an injunction protesting the city's capital improvement fee ordinance.

"This lawsuit is not only directed against the city council, but against the pocketbook of every Pacifican," said the press release.

The fee was established in 1970 in an attempt to meet some of the capital requirements of a growing city. It was pointed out that new development requires new fire stations, police facilities, recreation facilities, and city offices.

"To allege, as the developers have, that a fee of $225 for a three bedroom home excludes low income housing from the city is not sustainable. Regardless of its cost, all housing requires the same facilities for municipal services," said the press release.

"The only question is who is to pay the increased costs, the developer or existing residents. The city council has always been supportive of a balanced community offering all types of housing over a wide range of cost."

"The council has never turned down a low income housing development. But we are determined that developers pay their share of the cost of municipal facilities."

Preschool Program In JESD Is Lauded

Daly City's pre-school program, hailed as an outstanding educational example by statewide educators including Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles, was the subject of a statewide news conference this week.

The program, participated in by some 75 pre-school age children is currently being held in relocatable classrooms at the M. Pauline Brown School of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Simultaneously, another news conference on the same subject was held in Los Angeles.

The object of the two meetings was to publicize the model pre-school programs and attempt to gain public support for a legislative proposal aimed at getting some $100 million in state and federal funds.

The funds would be used to underwrite an early childhood educational program statewide with the state budgeting $25 million and the federal government matching this amount with $75 million.

Jerry McFetridge, research consultant for the Assembly Office of Research, is presenting the bill to the State Legislature.

Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent for instruction in the JESD, said the pre-school programs were being given top emphasis by Riles. Programs would be aimed at pre-school, kindergarten and primary children.

Riles has suggested classes be started for four-year-olds.

Such classes would better enable educators to determine a child's abilities early and help to identify any problems affecting a young pupil, educators feel.

"If we can identify a child's problems early and get moving on them, we may be able to prevent what develops later and perhaps eliminate it," Stratton said.

There are 9,500 students in the JESD. Although the pre-school program is modest in size it has become an outstanding example for the state because of the co-operation between teachers and parents, Stratton said.

"It's only a small beginning but we hope to eventually have this pre-school program on a much wider basis," he said.

The proposed legislation would provide the necessary funding to enlarge the statewide project, proponents explain.

San Bruno city officials are studying whether to permit a construction firm building a bridge for Interstate 380 to close off 100 feet of Huntington Avenue East for two months.

The request was made by Carl Carter at Monday night's city council meeting. He represented the firm now erecting a bridge paralleling the present bridge over the Southern Pacific main rail.

Huntington Avenue East is a short street along the east side of the railroad tracks, in the Fifth Addition. Carter said that no houses were involved. The closing was necessitated, he said, because there was no place to build the falsework to erect the bridge. It was a deadly situation, he added, to have falsework where cars could hit it. Another nearby street, Buena Vista, provided access, he added.

City Manager Gerald Minford said that he wanted to study very carefully any situation where a street was to be closed off.

Replacing San Bruno's long time councilman and mayor, Maury Hamilton, on the commission is Councilman Mary Henderson of Menlo Park.

LAFCO includes two city representatives, two county representatives (Supervisors Ged Day and Jean Fassler) and public member Atty. Emory Morris.

At a meeting of San Mateo County mayors Monday, San Bruno's George Corey was chosen for a one-year term to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

He replaces former Councilman William Lawson of Menlo Park.

nue, and the Vejmolá boy broke away and followed.

As they turned eastward on Taylor Boulevard, Cattaneo, under a charge of "voluntary manslaughter," slipped and fell, and Vejmolá caught up.

Cattaneo got to his feet and swatted Vejmolá on the head, a severe blow, the witness said. Then, police say, Cattaneo fell down again, and Vejmolá jumped upon him and stabbed him.

When officers arrived they found Cattaneo bleeding severely, and rushed him to nearby Peninsula Hospital in a police car. Doctors found the knife had pierced the youth's heart, and pronounced him dead on arrival.

Deputy District Attorney Richard Juergens advised Millbrae Police that they should refer Vejmolá to juvenile authorities.

Principal Dean Edwards and a delegation of students were due to attend the funeral at 8:45 a.m. today for Kenneth B. Cattaneo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cattaneo of 241 Barclay Avenue.

The flag has been at half mast this week.

The victim was new to the school, Edwards reported, and was not too well known. Nevertheless, there was much shocked silence about the school Monday.

A petition was filed in juvenile court Tuesday against David Vejmolá, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Vejmolá, 341 Palm Ave., on a charge of voluntary manslaughter, and a date for a hearing was supposed to have been set by press time.

minded the group that the established policy is to name no street or other facility in San Bruno after any living person.

"You shouldn't have to die to be honored!" exclaimed Councilman Margaret Kozkowski.

John Barnard added that "it is high time to start recognizing persons while they are still alive."

Christal cited jealousies and animosities created by naming places after live persons.

The council voted 3 to 2 against changing the policy, with Corey breaking the tie.

Councilmen rejected a $450 claim for damages from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirkpatrick, 3511 Highland Dr., who complained that the sewer line had backed up into their home and damaged their floors.

They received an announcement from the Division of Highways that they were rebidding two parcels on Third Avenue, next to Interstate 380. They are 2875 and 3281 square feet in size, and both zoned R-1, single family.

A report from City Mgr. Gerald Minford on a merchants' complaint over installation of a silent burglar alarm system in the police department was held over due to the death of the mother of one of the principals.

Mike Kaiser, newly elected chairman of the Citywide Beautification Committee, complained that the committee's last recommendation, to beautify San Bruno Avenue, was passed over because the committee failed to propose priorities for its recommendation. The previous recommendation for El Camino Real beautification would take over a year to complete, Corey had noted. He asked that the city define the function of the committee "in writing" so they would know what is expected of them.

The District Attorney in substance agreed with the Attorney General ruling regarding both the individual action that must be taken by a school board on July 1 of each year regarding a superintendent's salary.

Fringe benefits are in the same category, both the Attorney General and District Attorney opinions point out.

The question Greenwood asked District Attorney Keith Sorenson was whether or not action taken by the board does in effect constitute a raise for the superintendent and his associates or must the board take a separate and distinct action to grant them such increases. In acknowledging to this newspaper earlier that he had, in fact, taken the raise, Greenwood said he was unaware of the Attorney General's opinion and would solicit the opinion of the DA. He said it was Bartholomew's understanding, after discussion of the motion, that the trustees' included the three administrators in the package.

Another Chief Joins Debate On S.S.F. Jail

Pacifica Police Chief M. R. Nelson has added his concerns to those of South San Francisco Police Chief Sal Rosano regarding possible security problems in the new wing of the Northern Judicial District courthouse in South San Francisco.

In a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, Nelson contends that security problems arise in moving prisoners from holding rooms to Departments 2 and 3 of the Municipal Court.

He says that prisoners must be walked along a public hallway 50 feet in length, directly past a door leading to the outside rear area of the courthouse and thence through the main lobby, "usually occupied by numerous persons," to the front doors of the courthouses.

"This movement from the holding rooms to the courthouses imposes the great threat, not only to the custodial personnel guarding the prisoners, but to the prisoners themselves and the citizens in the corridor," Nelson states in the letter.

"In the event of an escape attempt of one or more of the prisoners, this crowded corridor would provide an ideal situation for a violent confrontation which would hamper recapture and could result in injury to custodial personnel, prisoners and non-involved persons," he continues.

Nelson says he is "frankly very surprised that this situation should exist in a brand new facility after the history of security problems experienced at the old facility."

Rosano expressed similar concerns early this week following dedication of the new courthouse wing, mentioning that holding facilities for prisoners are inadequate to serve the need for which they were designed.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes countered a day later that the facilities are just that—holding—for prisoners awaiting court appearances, and not detention facilities for those being held any length of time. It is expected, the county manager stated, that prisoners would be in the custody of sheriff's or police personnel at all times.

Nelson said in his letter that up to 15 prisoners are taken through the corridors at one time in the custody of three sheriff's deputies.

He asks that the sheriff be given "some type of assistance" by the county manager's office to alleviate the hazards.

North's Bitter Clash

Members of the North San Mateo County Council of Cities Thursday night in Pacifica.

The councilmen from the seven major north county cities, however, managed to affirm strongly their stands on several issues they felt to be vital:

1. They favored a detention facility for those arrested by police of the Northern Judicial District, located at the newly dedicated North County Courthouse on Mission Road in South San Francisco.

2. They wanted the voice of local government to be given serious consideration in any Bay Area sewer plan.

3. They opposed Proposition A, on the June primary ballot, which would permit the Bay Toll Authority to build a southern bay crossing at India Basin in San Francisco. The resolution cited ecology, the need to give rapid transit a chance, and the fact that the north county cities had previously given their backing to a crossing at Sierra Point, south of Brisbane.

Although they appeared to express their displeasure at Proposition 9, the environmental proposition, they approved 15-8 a motion by Pacifica Councilman Nick Gust—after some debate—to refer the matter back to their own city council's for individual action.

New Chairman George Corey, mayor of San Bruno, carried out his pledge to wind up the meeting "at a reasonable hour" by bringing issues to a head and concluding affairs at 10:20 p.m.

South San Francisco Police Chief Sal Rosano reported that the sheriff had requested a study of the North County's detention facilities two years ago, and one had not been made.

"The county recognizes (the problem) but does not give it high priority — They say they do not have the money . . . to show our good faith, we offered to participate in the cost of a joint city-county effort to seek funding from the federal government for the cost of building such a facility."

He described efforts to arrange with the LEAA—Law Enforcement Assistance Association—conduct a study for the North County—but pledged not to wait for their study but to "go ahead with our own."

The LEAA, he explained, has offices in Burlingame, and has offered the services of experts from the University of Illinois for a study, at no cost to local agencies.

Chairman Corey blasted the present system, in which each city must give up the time of its police officers to take prisoners to court. The southern cities, he complained, obtain free service from the county—turning over prisoners to the sheriff's office, when the northern cities must pay from their own tax funds, the costs of booking and caring for the prisoners.

The North County Council voted to confirm the membership of the special committee headed by Pacifica's Harlan Minshew, that is working on the problem: Rosano; David Rowe, South San Francisco councilman; Jess Salmon of Brisbane; Alan Heverty of Pacifica; Gale Dreislach, South San Francisco city manager, and San Bruno Assistant Police Chief Bill Cann.

'A Power Play'

Tarshes Rebuts Chief's Charge

"It has been suggested that upstream cities assume a greater cost liability for having permitted developments contributing to increased water run-off. It should be pointed out that it was not the upstream cities which permitted development in the original flood plan," Rowe said.

Vic Sanders, of the County Engineer's Office, said the county supervisors did not want to take away control of the flood projects from the cities involved.

In eight years there has been very little progress in solving Colma Creek flooding and no federally funded program undertaken.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes today termed "ill chosen comments" by South San Francisco Police Chief Sal Rosano concerning the prisoner holding facilities at the new wing of the Northern Judicial District Courthouse as "part of a power play to get the county to build him a jail."

The manager said that remarks by Rosano following dedication of the new $1,200,000 wing Monday "seem to indicate confusion in the chief's mind" as to the purpose of the facility.

"The new wing is a court facility, not a detention facility," Tarshes stated. "There are temporary holding facilities where prisoners can wait short periods of time for court appearances. They certainly are not designed to hold prisoners overnight, nor was it ever intended that they be fed there."

Rosano had stated that the holding facilities were totally inadequate to serve the need for which they were designed.

Tarshes and County Director of Building Construction and General Services Henry P. Taratt said the holding facilities are about the same, or better than those in the old courthouse wing and in the Central Judicial District Courthouse in San Mateo.

"If the chief had been doing his job he would have visited the older section and known the new facilities are as good or better," Tarshes stated. "I'm surprised he hasn't expressed concern about the older section. He hasn't talked with us regarding any concern."

Furthermore, the county manager stated, Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore has never requested the board of supervisors to build a detention facility in the North County, as was stated by Rosano.

The sheriff has said it would be "nice" to have a detention facility, but that there are other things which have higher priority, Tarshes stated.

Adding to the "power play" comment, Tarshes said that he is "tired of them" making the county a whipping boy for their particular goals.

He noted that the North County Council of Cities made a request in writing to the board of supervisors several months ago for construction of a detention facility.

"We're giving it consideration along with many other projects in the long term capital improvement program," Tarshes said. "It would be very expensive to operate. The county certainly doesn't have unlimited resources, and I assume they don't either."

D.C. Raps Flood Control Measure

Wednesday, May 10, 1972 THE POST

A Senate Bill that would force the Colma Creek Flood Control District to reshuffle its percentage of benefit allocations and possibly end up with the County Board of Supervisors levying a flat 40 cent tax rate for the project in the North County is being strongly opposed by Daly City.

What the supervisors want to do is shift a greater financial burden of responsibility on cities that have contributed to the increased flood danger in recent years because of development, such as Daly City and Colma.

The legislation was introduced by Senator Arlen Gregorio at the suggestion of the Board of Supervisors without prior consultation with any of the four cities — Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco and Pacifica.

In a letter to County Manager Marty Tarshes, Senator Gregorio said he would not pursue the matter further unless there was unanimous accord on the proposed measure, it was learned.

There is no such agreement on the pending legislation by Daly City as of today.

In fact, city manager David Rowe, in a meeting with the city council Monday, flatly recommended that the city not consider changing the Colma Creek Flood Control Zoning as proposed by the county.

Instead, Rowe pointed to the unincorporated lands of San Bruno Mountain, where much of the Colma Creek runoff begins in rainstorms, and suggested the county take a more active part in the project program.

Rowe said this county land had also undergone physical change in recent years with the building of the Guadalupe Canyon Road and it contributes considerable water to the creek during downpours.

Daly City's share of the flood control zone when it was established in 1964 by resolution of the Board of Supervisors (which set up three sub-zones for purposes of taxation within the four cities) was 24 cents. Under the new arrangement this would jump to some 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation on property owners.

The county argues that Daly City, like other areas, has developed far beyond what persons had envisioned eight years ago. Their contributions to the City, the city manager and council counter.

Until recently the Town of Colma, for which the creek the flood control district. It opted to stay out, although it sits in the very center of the overall district.

Mayor Bernard J. Lycett explained that his city had already expended some $750,000 on flood control projects in two sections of the city—Garden Valley and the Westlake Estates basin.

Much of this money was spent in the Colma Creek basin and financed by a five cent tax levy for a period of some seven years. Rowe also pointed out that developers in the Serramonte area have spent considerable sums in building flood control facilities within the upper reaches of the Colma Creek basin.

Terra Nova Topics

By Richie Montenegro

An effeminate barber, a greasy villain, and a sinister old maid are three characters from the much diversified cast of TN's spring drama production of "The Grass Harp", Truman Capote's comedy-fantasy-morality play.

The play takes place in a small-town southern community, and centers around a conflict between two elderly sisters. Innocent Dolly Talbo (Raquel Montenegro) is the owner of a dropsy-cure recipe that has been handed down to her from a travelling gypsy. She bottles the home-made dropsy medicine with the help of her teenage nephew Collin (Tim Kennedy) and Catherine, the old gossipy hired help (Louanne Moldovan). It's not until Dolly's scheming sister Verena (Nancy Tomlinson) connives with her villainous "gentleman friend" (Gary Wakelee) to manufacture the dropsy cure that the plot begins to move. Dolly and her two associates run away to a fantasy world, and Verena and the townspeople are scandalized.

THERE ARE INDIGNANT efforts by the hen-pecked Rev. (Steve Peterson), his domineering wife (Sue Booher), the lispng choir mistress Donna Pearson), the Sheriff (Gordon Powell), and his posse (Mike Banks, Dan Moreno, Marcell Vital, Rob Cowan, and Jim Hush) to bring the three fugitives back "where they belong."

During the fantasy scene, the good hearted Judge (Jim Gadowski) encounters the three runaways, and immediately falls in love with Dolly. Collin's 16-year-old sweetheart Maude (Lisa Pearson), and Baby Love Dallas, a traveling cosmetic sales-lady (Gail Ferari), also make the scene, and they provide a considerable amount of diversion.

Throughout the remainder of the play, the characters are faced with a series of decisions and a tragic accident, through which Truman Capote's concepts of escapism versus reality and his philosophy of life is brought out.

DIRECTOR BAMBI KAMPE and Student Director Pat Thompson extend their invitation to the public to come and see their production. Tickets for "The Grass Harp" may be purchased from cast members or at the door, at the reasonable price of $1.00 for students and $1.50 for adults. Performances will be Thursday through Saturday

Film Making Project at Highlands School, Millbrae

"Film making is a valid communications technique and, as such, is a valuable part of a school language program."

Marilyn McCarthy and Jim Kailas, teachers at Highland School in Millbrae feel that way. Their sixth grade students have studied the creative uses of film and are currently culminating their work by writing, producing, directing and filming a series of four minute stories.

Although one group used school grounds exclusively for its setting, others have chosen out-of-school locations. Two groups have filmed in private homes, one filmed in downtown Millbrae, another chose the Mills High School Track and the Coyote Point Beach for its locations.

Because Highlands is piloting a Parent Volunteer Driver Program for special interest field trips this year, these small groups of students have been permitted to leave school in the company of a driverchaperone during their regular language class time.

When the films have been developed and are shown, class members will analyze them critically. They expect to evaluate their efforts on how effectively film helped them to communicate an idea.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Many of us are trying to have a meatless meal once a week attempting to lower food costs. Thinking along these lines brings to mind a favorite from years past. A meatless lasagna, that's delicious and quite easy to make.

NONIE'S LASAGNA

- 1 6-oz. package (3 1/2 cups) wide noodles
- 1 1 1/2-oz. envelope spaghetti sauce mix
- 1 6-oz. can tomato paste
- 1 1/2 cups large curd cream style cottage cheese
- 1 beaten egg
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 6-oz. package sliced Mozzarella cheese
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Prepare the six-ounce package noodles as directed on the package. Prepare the spaghetti sauce as directed using the six-ounce can tomato paste. Combine the beaten egg with the one and one-half cups cottage cheese and one teaspoon salt.

In a greased 10x6x1 1/2-inch baking dish, alternate layers of half each noodles, sauce and cottage cheese, Mozzarella cheese and Parmesan cheese. Repeat this process.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Let stand about 10 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

With crusty French bread and tossed green salad including mixed vegetables, this makes a tasty meal.

Cookies make a great dessert because home made cookies are always a treat and you have plenty left for lunches. These cookies from Indiana won a prize in the Bake-Off a few years ago. In a peanut-studded meringue-y topping, hide bits of dark chocolate in gooey goodness... all in a rich crumb crust.

HOOSIER PEANUT BARS

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 egg yolks (reserve whites)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

OVEN 325-degrees; ABOUT 36 BARS

In large mixer bowl combine the two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, half teaspoon salt, one-half cup margarine, 1/2 cup each brown and granulated sugar, two egg yolks and one teaspoon vanilla. Blend at low speed until particles are fine. Press into a greased 13x9-inch pan. Spread topping over crust.

TOPPING

- 2 reserved egg whites
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 1 cup chopped salted peanuts

In small mixer bowl, beat egg whites at high speed until foamy. Gradually add the one cup brown sugar, continuing to beat until meringue stands in stiff peaks. Fold in the cup chocolate pieces and one-half cup nuts. Spread over crust and sprinkle with remaining half cup peanuts. Bake at 435-degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. While warm, cut in bars.

NOTE: When Topping the crust you will find that the topping doesn't spread easily. Just spread it a bit and the heat of the oven will do the rest. Also I found the bars so rich that I cut them into smaller squares, making 50 in all.

The egg plant dish in last week's column had an error. Her 'tis again.

EGGPLANT CASSEROLE

- 1 medium eggplant
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- one-eighth teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup rice krispies
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1/2 cup milk

Pare and cut the eggplant into small cubes. Boil in a small amount of water for 10 minutes. Drain and mash. Add the half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and egg. Pour into lightly greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Top with Rice Krispies and the one cup grated cheese. Add one-half cup milk. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

Westmoor Whirl

Pep Girls Triumph; Skiers' Scholarship

Westmoor's five pretty Pep Girls recently grabbed a first place in annual Pep Girl Competition.

Bringing pride and honor to their school, the squad, led by head pep girl Amy Hall, who is also Outstanding Senior Girl and salutatorian for the class of '72, consisted of Vicky Viscardi, Linda Hirsch, Robin Sousa and Margaret Anderson.

The program comprised of two acts, one done in standard uniforms to music of their own selection and the other being a novelty routine. Westmoor danced to the Fifth Dimension's "Sweet Blindness" and then returned in little girl dresses to do a routine to "Lollipop."

Other schools participating in the competition were Oceana, Jefferson, Half Moon Bay, and South City, with Jefferson and Oceana taking second and third places respectively.

Adviser for the Westmoor squad was Mrs. Barbara Bosio, P.E. Department head at the school.

Westmoor's Ski Club recently gave a $50 book scholarship with the remaining money in the treasury to Senior Stephanie Adams.

Stephanie has been active in the club for the past two years with a variety of activities. She also held the office of president for this past year and drove carloads of skiers to the mountains to such resorts as Sugar Bowl and Squaw Valley.

Stephanie is planning to attend College of San Mateo in the fall.

The Ski Club, under the direction of Jack Ramage, wound up a prosperous year with a booth at the annual Spring Festival, held in the Girl's Gym.

Several day trips to high Sierra Resorts were taken this year to make full use of the snowfall, with the highlight of the year being the annual weekend trip to Squaw Valley.

Westmoor's Class of '73 held its annual Junior Prom May 6, in the Ambassador Room of the Airport Plaza Hotel.

"I'll Take You There" was the theme of the prom with a color scheme of dark blue carpets, white table cloths and light blue accessories. Music was by the rock group, "The Riots" — Gail Gaviglio.

Westmoor High School has picked its "Road Scholars" for 1972. These are the boys representing Westmoor in this year's Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, according to George Chrestionson, automotive shop instructor at the school.

Competing for Westmoor will be students Ray Schnapp and John Loof.

The team will be sponsored by Spencer Chrysler Plymouth. The Trouble Shooting Contest will be held at 10 a.m. May 10 in San Leandro.

The winning team in the local contest will be sent to Los Angeles in June to compete against other top Trouble Shooters from all parts of the country in the National Championships Finals.

In the contest, participants take a written exam which counts as 50 per cent of their team's final score and then they race the clock and the other teams to find and fix several malfunctions deliberately placed in new Plymouth cars. This mechanical challenge counts as 50 per cent of a team's score.

Purpose of the contest is to recognize and honor outstanding young auto mechanic students and to encourage them to make a career as automobile mechanics.

Other units will also discuss these topics. They are Pacifica on Wednesday, May 17, at 9:30 a.m. at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; San Bruno South San Francisco on Thursday, May 18 at 9:30 a.m. at St. Thomas Lutheran Church; and the Evening Unit on Thursday, May 18 at 7:45 p.m. Building 1, room 325.

S.F. Woman Jailed in Assault Case

A San Francisco woman was arrested on a charge of attempting to murder her husband in South San Francisco, early Friday.

Police say Beverly Joan Dinkin, 30, is accused of assault with intent to commit murder. She was arrested just after midnight when her husband, Daniel E. Dinkin, 28, drove his pickup-camper rig into a local service station and asked the attendant to call an ambulance, and police.

Dinkin had been shot in the back, and was taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Police said the weapon used was a .38 calibre revolver. They said the Dinkins had parked their camper at Point San Bruno in South San Francisco, earlier in the evening.

"They became involved in an argument," the report says, "during which the suspect, Beverly, shot the victim, Daniel, in the back, with a .38 calibre revolver."

"The victim then drove the vehicle to a service station at Grand Avenue and Airport Boulevard."

Ask $5,000 Colma Creek Flood Study

County Engineer S. H. Cantwell will recommend to the County Board of Supervisors tomorrow that up to $5,000 be spent to study possible stopgap measures for flood control in the Colma Creek watershed.

In a memo to the board, Cantwell said that under the best of circumstances a Corps of Engineers flood control project cannot be completed prior to 1978.

He said the advisory committee for the Colma Creek Flood Control Zone has urged that interim steps be taken.

Cantwell urged that the Wilsey and Ham engineering firm be retained to make an evaluation of the practicality of temporary measures. He said the cost should not exceed $5,000, which is on hand in the zone's treasury.

The Temptation Often Grows

WE'RE TOLD THAT WE SHOULD be proud to pay for "incidentals" incurred by our public officials — both elected and appointed. They bring great prestige to our town, our county, our whatever, these same mental gnats shout. Balderdash, we shout back. These persons are supposed to be public spirited. They accept their offices for the public good. But sometimes, perhaps, the temptation grows faster than they can adjust to it.

FRANKLY, WE'RE SICK of those public officials who spend their lives and our money at the public watering hole which is replenished by our taxes, yours and mine. It strikes me that some officials are blinded by their own self-proclaimed importance and can't seem to find their way back to the proper route. We intend to help them get back on the right track.

THIS WEEK WE will go over the Jefferson Elementary School District Personnel Commission budget, which was under study as of Monday night.

First the function of the commission: This is a three person body appointed by various personages to everybody's satisfaction (they hope). We will not mention James Cranna's replacement's name on the commission. Besides Cranna, there is Mrs. Jeanne Kennaugh and Thomas Noonan. Fulltime employees are David E. Pia, classified personnel director, and the commission's secretary, Mrs. Marie Bizzuela.

THE FUNCTION OF THE Commission is to test, adopt rules and hear grievances from the district 155-odd classified employees. It was by a voice vote of these employees that the Commission came into being. The classified employees wanted to take the politics out of the hands of school administrators.

The Commission is funded by a special tax override that operates under the law WITHOUT A CEILING. In other words, they can tax us whatever their little hearts desire and whatever the public will stand still for. Each year the Commission's budget has grown. The budget in 1968 was some $20,000, including salaries of then-personnel director Don Pagni ($6,750 plus $2,650 contingency) and the Personnel Commission secretary ($3,620 plus overtime or added help $600).

IT HAS MUSHROOMED OVER 250 percent since those long-ago days only five years ago, to the current proposed budget of $42,565. Pia's salary has blossomed into $14,904, while Mrs. Bizzuela's annual stipend is $8,244. She started the New Year off 1972 with a salary of $7,800. Both Pia and Mrs. Bizzuela are asking for five percent increases in the new budget. We might add that estimated overtime for the secretary is $832 in the 1972-73 budget. The Commission's three members last year budgeted themselves $2,500 for travel expenses. The JESD Board of Trustees, with FIVE MEMBERS, only had $1,500 for similar purposes. (We add that they exceeded this figure, but that will be the subject of a later column.)

NOW IF YOU'RE still with me, you might want to know just how many classified (custodial, secretaries, et al) the Commission has hired. Records in our possession reveal that a grand total of 51 employees were hired IN THE PAST FIVE YEARS.

If you're beginning to feel guilty about all this, Fellow Taxpayer, you may be glad to know that we're not through with this commission yet!

ADMITTEDLY, WE ARE not the possessor of the Swiftest Mind in the West, however there are some rather "unusual" (a word we rather like, that) entries in the Commission's lists of travel expenses. These will be in addition to those credit card phone calls we pointed out in an earlier column made by Mrs. Kennaugh from various points in the state.

WE ARE IN THE dark as regards the policy of travel of members of the Personnel Commission. But, what the heck? If the public is paying why not go all the way, right? Wrong, we say!

As an example of how our policymakers live high on the hog, at our expense, is a three-day meeting in Monterey, December 1-4, 1971, attended by Noonan, Cranna (now a JESD trustee), Kennaugh, and then-personnel director C. Crispel.

The subject of the meet was the California School Personnel Commissioners' Association Conference. On Crispel's expense sheet it is indicated that he picked up Mrs. Kennaugh's tab on December 3 for breakfast. But on Mrs. Kennaugh's expense sheet for the same day it reveals that she paid for her own breakfast. It is possible more than one breakfast was enjoyed in the heady air of Monterey Bay. The individual expense sheets put in by the foursome also show that on December 3 Crispel paid for Cranna's dinner. Mrs. Kennaugh paid for her own dinner and Noonan spent 15 cents on the telephone and $51 for lunch and dinner.

MAMA MIA, do we remember the meal we had in Monterey last Christmas, with all the trimmings — wine, song, dessert And it didn't cost US no $51 bucks. I surely don't think I could handle a meal that big — or even two meals that big, alone.

THERE IS A WIDE difference in costs emerging from the Monterey meeting. We would hope this is NOT a typical junket, however several items cloud our optimism. Witness: Noonan's records indicate that his trip cost $171.20; Crispel, $160.44; Cranna, $171.80 and Mrs. Kennaugh spent $145.76. But Mrs. Kennaugh's hotel rates were substantially higher ($95.76 as compared to $69.30 for the male members of the group).

EACH MEMBER IS PAID $15 per meeting. There are two meetings of the Commission each month. This Column learned this week that the Personnel Commission would end the fiscal year — June 30 — in the red by about $3,000, making its grand total budget for the year a noticeable $36,136.

When the classified employees voted in this Commission it was for a five year trial run. That five years is up. But instead of simply shaking their heads and saying they don't want it anymore, they now find that a petition containing 20 percent of the registered JESD voters that cast ballots in the last election must be presented to the County to get the measure on the ballot. And then all the citizens must vote on it. There must be a moral here somewhere.

Perhaps it's like we said before: The only way to stop a herd of charging elephants is to take away their credit cards.

Landowners point to the product of motorcycling—erosion

Cyclists Have Fun But Others...

By FRANK LaPIERRE

There's an old sport becoming increasingly popular to some and maddening to others. It's called "cycling."

All you need to participate is a motorcycle (size is not especially important) special hill climbing tires and someone else's property.

And that's where the rub comes in. Property owners are complaining the cyclists don't give a hoot about anybody and are tearing up their land, literally.

A Daly City developer, as a prime example of what's been happening in recent months, points to the money he spent grading and planting grass on several acres of land adjacent to the Junipero Serra Freeway.

Until local police moved in and moved out the impromptu weekend motorcycle rallies, dozens of trucks loaded with the two-wheeled machines unloaded their pride and joy and commenced to rip up and down the challenging hills. Along came the rains and down came the hills from erosion.

Another case, similar, but with more nuisance effect, involved the motorcycles, several acres of graded land, and a convalescent hospital adjacent.

The six elderly bedridden patients, not to mention nearby homeowners, were "treated" every weekend and many week nights to the sputtering roar of the cycles carrying their riders over hill and dale.

Finally, after numerous complaints, the area was posted.

The cycles moved two blocks away to lands owned by a hospital. Truck tires were laid out and a raceway was formed so the riders would have a challenging track to compete on.

The list of lands now subject to erosion from the trails left in the wake of these cycle rallies is long.

Even mighty San Bruno Mountain has been scarred by the bikes and wildlife practically scared to death.

The problem is what to do with these owners. Motorcycle sales are on the upswing throughout the nation, particularly in the Bay Area.

Last year records indicate there were 608,180 motorcycles registered in California. Officials estimate twice that number are in the "off road" class and are not registered.

Perhaps a clear picture of just how many such vehicles are around will emerge in next year's files. Section 38010 of the Vehicle Code stipulates that after July 1, 1972 all motorcycles, with the exception of those operated on private lands where permission has been obtained in writing and racing vehicles, must be registered.

And police are prepared to come down hard on those riders who elect to ignore this new law.

The new off highway registrations will have special license plates, a Highway Patrol spokesman said.

At present there are laws governing sound emissions from the cycles, but few police departments in the state can afford the test equipment.

The Highway Patrol does most of the testing in this department, it was learned.

Without the testing device there is no accurate way in which to measure the noise factor. As one policeman explained: "What sounds acceptable in an open field may rattle windows and minds in a residential neighborhood."

Meanwhile, motorcycles continue to converge on open lots, meadows, hills, and beaches.

Not only is the land suffering from this onslaught of man's latest, albeit expensive, fad, but animals as well — including us homo sapiens.

Bright, New, Young Faces

A score of bright new young faces and another score of favorite familiar faces are singing and dancing across Hillbarn Little Theater's stage these weekends in a frivolous, fanciful and quite delightful 1920's British musical called "Salad Days."

Through the able accompaniment of two pianos, percussion and bass viol, directress Norma Gruman has fashioned a charming off-beat musical entertainment that needed considerably more rehearsal for opening night but will have polished up by this second weekend. The plot is so naively simple and silly that whole scenes could and should be cut out (especially if they don't draw laughs) without in any way hampering the show's fabric. It would certainly improve the momentum.

In the format of a revue, with cameo bits strung together within a skeletal plot line, the show by Dorothy Reynolds and Julian Slade afford an unusually talented little theater company to present its members in a specialty showcase.

What mustn't be eliminated, because they constitute highlights of the evening are Bob Brauns and Frank Grabinsky doing a very funny routine as a police officer and a patrolman describing 'an offense at the fence.' They top it off with a soft shoe duet that should be taped for Hillbarn's posterity file.

Despite an unusually large cast for a Hillbarn show (15 in the chorus alone) the company doubles up on roles. John Rechfertig's nightclub manager singing "Cleopatra" with a fez and a penciled moustache; Eleanor Wellman and Marjorie Ross singing "We Don't Understand Our Children;" sexy, voluptuous Jacqueline Massing clad as a belly dancer singing a torchy "Sand In My Eyes," and Nancy Genge as the ingenue leading lady who is a pleasure to watch and hear, each contributing largely to the show's enjoyment.

The jokes of British music hall humor don't go over and could be dropped to make the show more succinct and snappy. But just when it starts getting a little tiresome, Bob Brauns comes on in some outlandish outfit and brightens the whole thing up. He is amusing in safari shorts with a butterfly net and hilarious as a fag dress designer garbed in brown velvet suit, waving a yellow chiffon scarf at the end of a limp wrist and affecting a wig with spit curls across the forehead.

Two Hillbarn veterans, Jerry Gruman who plays a mute clown who explains in pantomime that he's lost a portable street piano and set-costume designer Sam Rolph dancing and singing in the chorus and looking like the return of Eddie Foy Jr. in tweed knickers, both give rare performances.

It was a musical that brought them all together but since Hillbarn does so few, we hope tall, lanky David de Russy, and Bart Drumm who have animated faces, good voices and a flair for comedy; bubbly Renee Copeland and leading man James Sibbet will stick with the Foster City little theater group for shows to come.

Sibbet is a real find. He's good looking with a personality that projects a smiling, carefree, nostalgic remembrance of Dick Powell in white duck pants and a cable stitch tennis sweater and white suede bucks. He's a "natural" if Hillbarn ever does "The Fantasticks," or such Dick Benjamin type roles as "Barefoot In The Park."

Recent Peace Rallies Fizzle

Recent peace rallies have fizzled. The stars are there, the build up is the same, but the crowds have not responded. Why?

As with all matters that involve large numbers of people, there are many reasons.

The present invasion of South Vietnam cannot be confused with an internally sponsored war of liberation. This time the tanks, half-tracks, artillery and rocket launchers stream across borders. The Patton-like columns violated the DMZ, using it in somewhat the same way Germany used neutral Belgium in two world wars.

All this shattered two myths: first, that the Communist cause was generated within South Vietnam. Second, that the battle was being waged between under-armed and under-supplied peasants and modern and well-equipped American forces. This time there is no pretense — Russia's hand is fully visible, and if there is a David on the field of battle, it is the ARVN army.

What's more, the attack came at a time of dwindling American participation. The North could have waited for 90 to 120 days, and the last of the American ground forces would have departed. There can be no question that the attack would have risked less resistance if timed just a bit later. The North and Russia must be understood as wanting to give the United States a pasting, even though America had made it clear that she was leaving the ground war.

North Vietnam has long been a master of that "other war" — the battle for public opinion without opposing nations. Her ability to mobilize support, first in France, and later in the United States has been historically remarkable. Her success in this has rested in large part upon appearances. Until now, her conduct of the fighting war has seemed unrelated to the propaganda battle. Always concerned with the "will" of opponents, she has, nonetheless, conducted the real war in ways that appeared to have no connection to her search for dissension within the United States. But the nature and timing of the present assault leave little question of her motives. Her refusal to delay for three or four months seems only explainable in terms of internal American politics.

Finally, the present American posture is direct and uncomplicated. No long list of "tracks" or "options" now exists. Our ground forces continue to leave, and with Paris again closed down, the war takes on Lincolnian simplicity. It is a battle of time: the strength and duration of the Communist offense against the staying power and stability of the government of South Vietnam.

Presently, the conflict is in doubt, but it certainly seems that its resolution, and success or failure are not far off. Under these circumstances, it is not surprising that peace marchers are few in number. The apparent truth of the matter is that the vast majority of Americans look at headlines aghast, and hope and pray that the invading armies of the North will, like those of General Karl von Rundstedt, run out of time, supplies and fuel.

Even the most disenchanted must understand that America has much to lose in the cities and on the roads of Vietnam. As things are at this moment of history, cheering for the other side is so idle game for sophisticated. It amounts to hope for American tragedy.

Let Kooks Find Another Forum

I have been invited to attend a meeting of the Board of the Jefferson Elementary School District. The last one I attended seemed more like a riot than a business meeting.

Wild-eyed persons from the audience kept jumping up and demanding time to make comments. I soon learned that most of them had come to form a sort of cheering section for this or that faction of the board.

One long, skinny man with granny glasses took upon himself the task of denouncing each speaker as a bigot. Another man, whose beard was so long and thick he had to stand back from the microphone, kept reminding the board that America is a democracy and everybody has a right to have his say. Throughout it all, people kept running out to the drinking fountain or the lunchroom or the lavatory or just to fight out private feuds.

All this was going on while the board was considering such mundane matters as the payment of vouchers and the assignment of temporary help.

Because of such meetings the Jefferson Elementary Board has appeared divided and weak when it should be united and strong. Many times its members have been forced to listen to people who have no other purpose in talking than hearing their own voices. Many times its members have been forced to make poorly planned and ill-considered statements. Indeed, sometimes the board has been forced into executive sessions over matters that should be worked out in open meetings.

The time has come for orderly, businesslike conduct on the part of both the public and the school board members. Let the crackpots in the audience find another forum. Let each person in the audience keep quiet until he is invited to speak. Let the people realize that the work — of the board is serious business.

After all, the Jefferson Elementary Board is responsible for the education of 9,415 children and for the working conditions of 408 teachers, and for the maintenance and control of twenty one schools. It handles more money than any single enterprise in the city and controls a large amount of real estate. Thus, its decisions touch every person in the community.

On the part of the board members, if they are not informed of their awesome responsibility, let them find it out from materials about schools boards that may be found in both the school library and the public library. Let them brush up on their "Robert's Rules." Let them realize that they have been elected to cooperate as a unified board and not ride favorite issues in opposite directions.

Let the conduct of the Board and its meetings be above reproach. And finally, let it never be said of this board as Mark Twain wrote of another, "In the first place God made idiots: this was for practice; Then he made school boards."

Bands From Colma, Franklin Winners

Two Jefferson Elementary School District bands received top ratings at the California Music Educators Association Festival at Skyline College.

A third received a II rating. Colma Intermediate School Band (Mary Ann Heinzen director) I; Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School Band (John Galli, director) I; Fernando Rivera Intermediate School Band (Kem Martinez, director) II.

"These ratings should be particularly highly valued because there were only four I ratings awarded to the many junior high school bands and orchestras participating," said Richard Snyder, head music teacher.

Snyder released a schedule of spring concerts to be presented in the schools in the district. At each school the orchestra and glee club will present a program of varied numbers.

It follows:
Vista Mar, May 15, 7:30 p.m.; Colma Elementary, May 16, 7:30 p.m.; F. D. Roosevelt, May 17, 7:30 p.m.; Daniel Webster, May 17, 7:30 p.m.; Fernando Rivera (at Serramonte High School), May 18, 7:30 p.m.; Thomas Edison, May 18, 7:30 p.m.; Christopher Columbus, May 22, 7:30 p.m.; Abraham Lincoln, May 23, 7:30 p.m.; Colma Intermediate Choir, Guitar Ensemble, and Band, May 24, 7:30 p.m.

He'd Be Alive
Today If Only...

We recently received the following letter from Alex Petropoulos, former Mission High School athlete who successfully coached kids' basketball teams when he was a Daly City resident. Petropoulos, an avid fisherman who now lives in Fremont, still has many friends on this side of the bay and has an urgent message for them, especially boating and/or fishing enthusiasts. The letter speaks for itself:

"On April 9, I was fishing with Lino Mammini and Del Tufo outside Golden Gate Bridge. Fishing was good, but the wind came up, so we had to fish inside the bay.

"One boat stayed outside. As time went by, we watched to see the other boat. Within one hour, they had capsized, so we went outside to pick them up. Waves were rolling 12 to 14 feet high under the bridge. Luckily for them and us the tide was going out and had taken them to better water by the time we had reached them.

"We picked up three persons. I asked, 'How many were you?' They said four. I said, 'Where in hell is the other one?' One man said he was gone. The other said that the missing man was his father and he was swimming to shore.

"We went to the place where he had last been seen. The water was rough and we could not control our boat. Now we had six persons and the boat is only 16 feet long. It was acting like a surfboard. We had to give up the search.

"On the way we stopped a Coast Guard boat going to the accident and told them the area where the boy's father was last seen. They found his body.

"If only one of those people on the capsized boat had gone to a FREE Coast Guard class, I would not be writing this letter. Some of the rules they didn't know:

- (1) Too many persons in a small boat.
- (2) Rough water, but they stayed out, anyway.
- (3) When they capsized, the ALL kept on their shoes and heavy clothes.
- (4) If they had stayed with the boat we could have saved all four.

"There were other rules they didn't know, but just the above four were enough to kill one man and produce three lucky live ones.

"Thank you, Alex Petropoulos."

DOOMSAVERS OF BASEBALL may be interested in the following excerpts from a recent editorial by C. C. Johnson Spink, Editor and Publisher of The Sporting News (who is no longer JUST a baseball house organ, but covers all sports), in which he quotes liberally from a series of articles which appeared in the March issue of Advertising and Sales Promotion Magazine:

"U.S. companies spend more money with baseball than with football at every level of sales stimulation.

"Editor Louis J. Haugh said, 'We found that the facts of baseball's strength have often been ignored under the relentless attacks against the game by its competitors. The truth is that baseball, not football, gets the most dollars in promotional tie-ins from companies across the U.S. And, not incidentally, baseball is the best-promoted sport as well.'

"The magazine series dealt with three different areas: promotion on the individual team basis, merchandizing and promotional use of individual stars and promotion by national advertisers involving youth leagues.

"The report on individual team promotion featured the Braves, who 'do the most imaginative job' of all major league clubs.

"Reporting on player promotion on a national scale, A&S said, 'In deference to Pete Rozelle, George Halas, et al, football may indeed be challenging baseball as the No. 1 American pastime. But as far as promotional uses of the respective sports stars go baseball still leads the pigskin boys by a whopping 25 percent in yearly revenues, according to sources close to both sports.'

"The magazine also said that baseball's Licensing Corporation of America surpassed NFL Properties, Inc., in merchandizing revenues last year, despite the fact that much of baseball's activity is carried out on an individual club basis... and all of football's is done on a centralized basis by NFL Properties.

"Concerning baseball endorsements, A&S said the price tag varies, but even the cost of a highly publicized star is often worthwhile.

"Consider this,' the magazine said. 'You can get Ferguson Jenkins for about $10,000 for his name, one print ad, one 60-second and one 30-second TV spot, perhaps two sales meetings and maybe three retail appearances...'

"Last season, Atlantic-Richfield Co. tied in with the Yankees, Phillies, Red Sox and Pirates and in each club's area offered photos of 12 stars of the team, distributed one a week. The demand was so overwhelming, A&S said, that the gasoline company had to rush a reorder for the photos and wound up giving away a total of 10,000,000.

"National advertiser involvement with the Little League program was outlined... It said that five companies are joining in a promotion to make cash contributions to the Little League for every product label or coupon mailed in to them. For example, Dexenex, one of the sponsors, will donate 10 cents for each carton or sales slip and code number from its aerosol can. The five companies expect to contribute at least $50,000 to the boys' baseball program."

A STORY WE WERE relating about Barry Tompkins a couple of weeks ago was cut off at the mid-section due to space problems, so to avoid sounding like one of Tompkins' sportscasters, we herewith reprint the item in full:

Barry Tompkins, the sports "expert" of KPIX, continues to amaze us. In announcing the recent trade which brought the Mets Rusty Staub, he informed his listeners-viewers that Montreal had received in return Tim Lincecum, Ken Singleton, and another player whom Barry didn't feel warranted a mention, so minor were his credentials.

The other player was Mike Jorgensen, who was considered one of the Mets' brighter prospects, who had logged more time in the biggies than either of the other two players, and whom one Met official later characterized as "the player we most hated to let go."

By the way, Barry. On opening day, that unmentionable, who was Montreal's starting first baseman, hit a three-run homer to single-handedly beat St. Louis, 3-2.

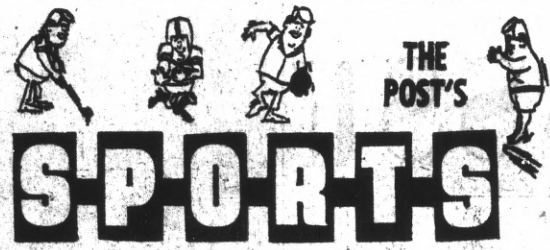

Hear you're going to Africa, Barry. Stay there.

A GENUINE DISPLAY of sportsmanship, which is becoming more and more rare in amateur sports, took place at a recent frosh-soph baseball game between El Camino and Terra Nova, and deserves to be published.

Locked in a scoreless duel, Terra Nova pitcher Pete Wathen had a no-hitter going into the fifth inning when a Colt hit a one-hop smash through the box off Wathen's glove.

Because the game was being played at El Camino, Colt coach Bruce Grantham was official scorer. Rather than arbitrarily calling it a hit, he consulted with Tiger Coach Bud Bresnahan, who felt that it could not be called a clean hit. Grantham ruled it an error and it turned out to be the only questionable play in an otherwise nearly perfect game by Wathen, which was won Hollywood style in the last inning when rightfielder Reg Zettuche whacked a three-run homer and TN endured, 3-0.

But that wasn't the end of it. After the game, Grantham not only went out of his way to congratulate both Wathen and Zettuche, but presented each of them with a game ball. That, fans, is class.

Falcons' Raymond Stymies Panthers

By DAN BERTELOTTI

Crestmoor High's Jim Raymond is the kind of pitcher that doesn't believe in giving the opposition any chance to score.

Look at the number of walks he's issued in the MPL this year. The total is two in 37 innings. One of those came on May 2 as Crestmoor clubbed second place Burlingame 5-0 in a make-up of a "winded-out" game.

Despite that one walk, Raymond came up with his best performance of the year, striking out 15 Panthers. He gave up five hits; three of those were of the questionable infield variety.

Crestmoor wasn't exactly bubbling over with offensive strength either. The Falcons packed their five runs and four of their six hits into the fourth inning. Only three of the runs were earned.

Catcher George Ama led off the fateful fourth with a single. Ron Kohles executed a perfect hit-and-run, singling, putting runners on first and third. Stu Bringham singled in one run and after a forceout and a double-steal. Raymond helped his own cause, squeezing in another.

After a walk put runners on first and second, Mike Corden singled on the infield and the final two runs scored on a fruitless throwing error committed on Corden's single.

Tim Hesselgren was the only bright spot for Burlingame. He came up with two of the five hits Raymond allowed. Doc Scheppeler and Sergei Nasarow combined to limit Crestmoor to only six hits, but the big inning proved too much for them.

Boys' Baseball Opens in DC

The Daly City Recreation Division's Boys Baseball League has started. First results follow:

Fifth Grade American League
In the fifth grade American League, good pitching and close games highlighted opening day festivities. Mark Evans of the P.A.L. Serramonte Indians outlasted Tito Hernandez of the A.A.A. Astro's by a 3 to 1 score as both pitchers went the distance in their premier appearances. Jon Janssen was the hitting star of the game for the Indians as he hit the first round tripper of the season and followed that with a triple to lead all hitters.

The L.B.Y.A. Braves, behind the six inning no hit performance of Jerry Rodriguez, defeated the O.L.M. Cardinals, 5 to 4. Victor Ruiz won the ball game for the Braves with a home run in the bottom of the sixth. Jeff Lotus and Kevin Mahoney split the O.L.M. hurling chores and only allowed three hits in a losing cause.

Fifth Grade Pac. Coast League
The Holy Angels Crusaders downed the P.A.L. Warriors, 11-4, to open the Pacific Coast League play. Michael Botta and Dennis Regan combined to pitch six innings for the Crusaders victory.

Fifth Grade National League
The Holy Angels Purple People Eaters downed the O.L.P.H. team 20 to 10. Greg Simon of Holy Angels collected four hits for the winners and Steve Botta struck out the first six batters he faced before retiring for the afternoon. O. L.M. downed L.B.Y.A. Lions 19-1.

In the Sixth Grade American League, the L.B.Y.A. Firebirds burned up the bases as they defeated the O.L.M. Cubs, 10-2. Ronnie Schreier pitched three innings and allowed only one hit as he struck out seven batters. He also had two hits in four appearances, driving in Four RBIs for the Tigers and catcher Dana Ynostroza played an outstanding defensive game.

St. Andrew defeated Hunts, 7-1, as John Moore struck out 15 batters. The P.A.L. Colts edged the O.L.M. Mets, 6-3, as Tony Cooper went "two for four" including a homerun. Bill Kenmug pitched five good innings for the win.

Seventh Grade Intermediate League
The A.A.A. "A's" got off winging, with a 16 to 2 victory over the O.L.P.H. Orioles. Mike

Mid-Peninsula Swimming

SM Takes Title Again

The swimmers were shivering, but the only casualty for the Mid-Peninsula League finals at Crestmoor on Friday was Capuchino's Casey Greenleaf, who had broken his leg the day before.

For the rest, it was old hat. The cold didn't tighten muscles too much; Fred Kay set two league records as San Mateo easily took its fifth straight MPL title.

Hillsdale and Aragon had dropped some promising young varsity swimmers down to frosh-soph. San Mateo finished with 81½, Mills 43, Burlingame 40½, Aragon 31½, Hillsdale 30½, Capuchino 16 and Crestmoor 14.

The Bearcats got a break in the opening medley relay; Greenleaf's absence meant Capuchino's team with the fastest time, scratched and San Mateo won (1:51.0).

Hillsdale sophomore Hans Van Arkel brought his season times down in winning the 200 free (where he wasn't pushed) and the 100 free (where he was, by San Mateo's Kirk Childs). Van Arkel went from 1:53.9 to 1:52.2 in the 200 and from 51.5 to 51.3 while Childs clocked 51.8, a personal best, in the 100.

San Mateo's Kay got the first of his records in the 200 yard individual medley, where he stroke leg and finished well in moved out in his specialty backfront at 2:07.1. The old standard was 2:07.5, set by Aragon's Hubbard in 1968.

Kay was all by himself in the 100 backstroke, almost five seconds ahead of second place. His 58.6 broke the old 58.9 that CSM's Bruce Oliver swam at Hillsdale in 1970. Kay's previous best had been 1:00.0.

Childs won the 50 free in 23.5 and Burlingame's Don Peterson had a much easier time than expected in winning a 4:05.7 400 free.

Cap's Tom Reudy broke the MPL's current magic minute barrier in the 100 yard butterfly, clocking 59.8 to beat out strong Burlingame challenger Bill Refvem (1:01.0).

In what had figured to be one of the tightest races, San Mateo's Roger Knorr equaled his Wednesday 1:07.8 qualifying time in the 100 breaststroke to edge Mills veteran John Wilson (1:08.6), who had qualified at 1:07.7.

San Mateo's free relay team, with Childs and Kay finishing up, clocked 3:30.8 while Hillsdale, the top trials quartet at 3:30.5, finished second yesterday in 3:35.2, barely ahead of Burlingame.

Mills took an easy win in the frosh-soph, sparked by a league record 1:08.6 breaststroke from freshman Ben Sun; Crestmoor finished a distinct if somewhat distant second.

Falcons Are Pressed

When South San Francisco High track coach Pete Giachetti said he expected his team's non-league meet with MPL power Crestmoor to be close, he meant it.

And he was right. Crestmoor won again this year, 75-61, but the NPL champs were in it most of the way—Crestmoor actually won on the strength of the two relays.

In other ciner action on May 2 Oceana dumped Half Moon Bay, 97-34, as Jim Ribera took double hurdles wins and Joe Stavits double field wins.

Crestmoor was led by premier hurdler Bart Pierce, who ran 14.9 in the highs and 19.6 in the lows, top times both—he pushed South City foe Tom Swartzell to 15.2 and 20.0 clockings (Swartzell's previous bests had been 15.3 and 20.3).

Swartzell came back later to win the discus with a 141-8 heave. Pierce joined the mile relay team, anchoring a rapid 3:29.4 effort.

South City gave Crestmoor some trouble in the track events. Tom Henkle won the 440 (51.6) and the 220 (22.8). Alex Cano finished second in the 440 and upset Crestmoor's Mike Paul in the 880 (2:01.9). Ribera and Stavits weren't the only double winners in the Oceana meet; teammate Bill Lally took both the shot and discus.

Host AAU

'B' Swimmers

The Surfrider Swim Club recently hosted a AAU "B" at Aragon High School with 13 teams and 2,600 entries participating.

Coaches John De Felice, Pete Pontacq and Lon Waxstein, who hold daily workouts at Crestmoor and Carlmont High School pools, said they were particularly pleased with the performances of Rick "Snoopy" Rolfe, who took home six "A" medals, and Nan Boyd, eight years old, who won three "A" medals.

Other Surfriders winning medals included Lisa Nuhiwa and Bob McCready, who won two each, and Greg Rolfe, Eric Sandvik and Ricky Duff with one each.

The girls' 200 yd. medley relay was won by the Surfrider A team of Lisa Nuhiwa, Donna McGinn, C. Stewart and Chris Coates.

2 D.C. Gymnasts

In District Berths

Two members of the Daly City Gymnastic Team qualified for the district gymnastic championship meet.

Denise Miller earned her berth in the Los Altos championship meet this month, placing first in the uneven bars competition for the 12-14 age group.

Judy Wellich will compete in the 12-14 age group in all-around events.

The Daly City team is coached by Miss Kristen Olsen and Mrs. Carol Lucier, under the supervision of Miss Katherine Bradshaw, Daly City recreation supervisor.

Junior Champ Olympics Action Starts Saturday

About 500 boys and girls from Pacifica will gather at Terra Nova High School May 20 for the eighth annual Junior Champ Olympics.

The event, sponsored jointly by the Pacifica Jaycees and the Pacifica Park Beach and Recreation Department, gives elementary school children a chance to compete in olympic style track and field events.

Included are 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes, 220 and 440 track events and relay races.

The field competition includes the high jump, standing and running long jump, and softball throw.

The olympics are open to boys and girls in third and fourth grades, fifth and sixth grades and seventh and eighth grade categories. Preliminary field and time trials will be held Saturday.

Medals will be given for first through third places and ribbons for fourth through sixth places.

There also will be trophies for best individual performance in each of the boys' and girls' age group.

The Junior Champ Olympics closely follows the format of the international olympics. There is

A D.C. Program For Handicapped

A special recreation program, under the sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation Division and the Jefferson Union School District, is being offered students 12 years of age and older.

The pilot program is designed for boys and girls enrolled in special education classes for educationally handicapped, educable mentally retarded and the trainable mentally retarded.

The program is under the direction of Gary Iacini of Skyline College and will include skill development of hand-eye coordination, balance, body placement, and overall motor control.

Session are held on Thursdays, through June 8 at the Westmoor High boy's gymnasium from 7 to 9 p.m.

a parade of nations with each of the elementary schools representing a country in opening torch ceremony and other olympic fan fare. Three trophies are presented to the schools with the best overall performance in an age group, plus a perpetual trophy for spirit and achievements.

Each year the participation in the Junior Champ Olympics has grown by 50 to 100 children. The PB&R and the Jaycees provide the manpower to run the event, however, they invite help. Howie Siegel, (359-0207) or Darwin Debois (350-5198), should be contacted.

Lower Densities Seen For Bruno Properties

San Bruno city planners started last week its new program of rezoning the bulk of its undeveloped residential lands to lower densities.

They recommended rezoning of the Deane and Deane acreage north of Sharp Park Road from R-1 to R-1D. No one spoke, either pro or con; not even a representative of the owner showed up. The commission was about to approve the rezoning when Deputy City Atty. Dermot Fitzgerald warned them that they would have to discuss the rezoning and give some justification for it.

Commissioner Leon Miller explained that the new zoning would give the property owners an opportunity to develop their property with "some imagination rather than by using the common cut and fill... and developing it the ordinary way which could result in a mess of ticky-tacky boxes."

The R-1D zoning would:

1. Lower the maximum density from one house for every 5,000 square feet to one house for every 6,000 square feet (minus area for streets, sidewalks, etc.).
2. Permit the developer to use some imagination for better utilization of difficult terrain, such as clustering the homes or by building them as townhouses.
3. Give the planners greater control so that they could bar undesirable types of homes.

The planners and council had previously turned down a proposed Deane and Deane project which would have provided such imaginative use of the land; owners of townhouses would own all the land in common, including quite an area of land left natural. However, the plans called for ten homes per acre. The new zoning would lower density from eight homes to 6½ homes per acre.

Portola Highlands
A scattering of Portola Highlands residents appeared on the second rezoning, for a 5½-acre lot on Sneath Lane, which had been previously rejected as the site for a 72-unit apartment house.

Two women spoke in protest to the rezoning. Mrs. Jo Karpenske, 140 Monterey Court, said that Portola Highlands was the only neighborhood without any apartments "and we'd like it to remain R-1. She didn't want cluster homes, she said. Miller told her that this lot was also a difficult one to develop: it had 2½ flat acres and three acres steep hillside.

"You wouldn't want to see them with cantilevered homes — or putting homes up on poles," he told them.

The new zoning, he added, would also permit the city to control use of the hill — instead of letting it remain in weeds.

Charles Olivia, representative of Challenge Homes, asked the planners for a delay on the rezoning. The firm, he said, is presently working on a development plan which would somewhat follow the lines of what the planners wanted. It would be ready in 30 to 60 days.

His request was denied and the rezoning was approved, for recommendation to city council, on a unanimous vote.

Rezone 29 Lots

Meanwhile, the planners voted to set up a public hearing on another proposal of Miller's, to rezone 29 lots in Portola Highlands from R-3, apartments, to R-1, single family. These lots are located on Sneath Lane, and on three courts off of Sneath, Yelo and Mendocino. The lots are occupied by fairly new single family homes.

The hearing was set for May 15.

Commissioners approved plans for an eight-unit apartment house on Santa Clara Avenue in Lomita Park, to be built and owned by Robert Lawrence. It would have eight parking spaces and eight studio apartments.

Rooming House

They received an application for a new operator of an old rooming house at 208 San Diego Avenue in Lomita Park. Charles Deane Allen of Belmont explained that he was buying the home as an investment, and would have a resident manager. There would be 12 rooms rented, and five parking spaces in front and five in back. They would be rented to Allen's fellow airline employees.

Planners were first dubious about the legality of the whole thing but were assured that as an established use, Allen had a right to use it for a rooming house. Then, City Atty. Dermot Fitzgerald announced that a use permit was not even needed since it had prior use — a decision annoying Building Inspector Mel Bredlow who had asked Allen to make the application. As the meeting concluded, Fitzgerald proposed his making There would be 12 rooms rented, and five parking spaces in front and five in back. They would be rented to Allen's fellow airline employees. The planners told him to go ahead and make the study.

Planners in San Bruno Elect Their New Officers

No one can accuse the members of the San Bruno Planning Commission of being conceited. On May 1 was the time for electing new officers — and it turned out to be a difficult task.

First Leon Miller nominated Bill Cox for re-election as chairman, since Cox had served just a few months, upon the resignation of Victor Ogrey. Cox, however, declined, saying that he had been chairman before.

Then, Lynn Buxton nominated Miller, who also declined for the same reason.

Then, Paul Supanich nominated Jim Hensel for chairman, who also pleaded that he had been chairman before.

Finally, Miller nominated Girvin Whitney as chairman. He had no excuse to decline, but upon taking over the gavel, noted that he was quite unprepared for his new honor.

Then came the time for vice chairman nominations. Supanish was nominated for vice chairman and declined; Cox was nominated, and this time he accepted.

Youth Week Begins For Millbrae Monday

The thirteenth annual observance of Youth Week, sponsored by the Millbrae Lions Club, is being celebrated this week.

A full week of interesting and exciting activities is in the offing according to Smokey Stover, Lions Club president, and Jerry Cohen, general chairman.

The week's activities commence on Sunday with "Youth at Church Sunday."

As a preliminary introduction to Youth Week, local youngsters competed in an essay contest on the subject, "The Importance of Religion to Me," under the direction of Chairman Clarence Larson.

Commencing on Monday and during the entire week, an art show featuring the work of Millbrae Elementary and Intermediate School children will be on display at the Millbrae City Library and local bank lobbies with Chairman Joseph Bronzini in charge.

Wednesday is Youth in Government Day when youth takes over the reins of local government at City Hall with students selected from Mills and Capuchino High Schools serving in some sixteen governmental positions.

The student officials will spend the entire day with their official municipal counterparts. After attending a dinner hosted by the city of Millbrae, the one-day-term officeholders will climax the eventful day with a mock session of the city council in the council chambers starting at 8 p.m. Co-chairman for this important day are former Mayors Charles Yetter and Lew Grasberger.

On Thursday night, Mills High Youth Queen Linda Raicevich and Capuchino High Youth Queen Diane Denucci will be feted at the annual youth and ladies' night dinner of the Millbrae Lions Club at Crystal Springs Golf Club.

THE POST Wednesday, May 10, 1972

Featuring the evening's entertainment will be the talented drama and music groups from Mills and Capuchino. Handing arrangements for this enjoyable affair is Chairman Bill Bissell.

Friday night, starting at 5:30 p.m. at the Millbrae Recreation Center, marks the running of the sixth annual Turtle Races for youngsters. Each participant will receive a turtle, with the lucky winner being the recipient of a large perpetual trophy to be awarded by Turtle Master Earle Balin.

On Saturday morning, Youth Week will close with a gigantic Youth Parade. The parade, under the direction of Chairman Steve Agosta, will form up at 10 a.m. in the staging area at the lower field of Mills High School just off Murchison Drive.

Starting at 11 a.m., the parade will proceed north on Magnolia to Chadbourne, turn east on Chadbourne, north on Broadway and down Broadway to Meadow Glen, turn left to Magnolia and left again to Richmond Drive, thence west on Richmond Drive to Poplar, south on Poplar to Lansdale Avenue, thence west on Lansdale Avenue to the reviewing stand on the Millbrae Recreation Center Green.

This year the parade will feature among its hundreds of participants, the colorfully uniformed marching bands from Capuchino, Mills, Crestmoor, Westmoor and Monte Vista High Schools; the St. Mary's Chinese Girls' Drum Corps, the Sierra High Jazz Band, Millbrae Youth League Baseball teams, Millbrae girls' and boys' track teams, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Campfire Girls, mounted units, floats, antique cars, civic dignitaries, and many others, all of whom will be preceded by the color guard from the Twenty-third Marine Regiment stationed at San Bruno.

High Diver Is Injured

A second member of Gene Kelly's "Clown Around" cast was injured during a high dive act at the Daly City Cow Palace Saturday afternoon.

Raymond Zecca, 25, was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of head and back injuries after he smashed into the floor of the main arena while doing his act from a 20 foot high platform.

Zecca's specialty is to jump from the platform, do a full somersault and land on his back atop an inflated bag. Apparently there was not enough air in the bag and Zecca crushed the bag and hit the floor.

Last week, at Oakland's Coliseum, a wire walker slipped and crashed to the floor receiving serious injuries.

Gunmen Rob Bruno Motel

Two men, one with a pistol, robbed the manager of the Night's Rest Motor Lodge, 411 E. San Bruno Ave., San Bruno, Saturday night, escaping with $235.

Police said the men entered the motel at about 10 p.m. The suspect with the gun ordered the manager to the floor while the second suspect took money from the cash drawer.

Both suspects were described as about 30, 6-foot-tall and with brown hair. One was said to have shoulder-length hair. They were last seen running down the street, police said.

Mini-bike Riders Held

Three San Francisco juveniles were arrested by Brisbane police early Saturday as they allegedly drove through the bay-side city on stolen mini-bikes.

The boys, aged 16 and 17, along with two other unidentified boys, stole the new mini-bikes from the Mini-Cycle Shop, 7033 Mission Street, Daly City, shortly after midnight, police said.

Brisbane officers Bob Davis and Steve Stanton, backed by off-duty policemen Terry Darrell and John Majka, were able to apprehend the trio as they headed for the San Francisco County boundary line. All three suspects are from the Hunter's Point area.

Arts Festival For San Bruno

Glowing progress in the upcoming art festival, and a controversial proposal to name Diamond No. 1 after a beloved sports figure enlivened the last meeting of the San Bruno Parks and Recreation Commission.

The art festival, to be a first for the San Bruno area, will be held here in October.

Vice-chairman Polly Sandkulla reported that the Junipero Serra Arts Festival Committee held its fourth meeting at Junipero Serra Park, and it was attended by local leaders from the fields of art, recreation and government.

The group voted to branch out into Millbrae, South San Francisco, Pacifica and Daly City to invite local artists.

Formation of the San Bruno Art Assn. was launched, she added, and it will hold its first meeting June 6, 8 p.m. at the San Bruno Recreation Center.

Chris Traylor Jr., assistant coach of the San Bruno Rams, appeared at the meeting to propose that City Park baseball diamond No. 1 be named for Tom Lara Sr., who had a leading role in organizing and leading the Pee Wee, Midget and Teenager baseball leagues. There are over 800 boys taking part in these leagues.

"Too often, fine tributes are made only after the benefactor has passed away. It appears to me that it would be a far more meaningful gesture on our part to pay tribute to the man who even now is giving of himself," Traylor declared.

However, this seemed to be the very point that seemed to stymie the commissioners, who expressed admiration for Lara but noted the policy of the City Council in naming places only after dead people.

The proposal was referred to a special committee headed by Commissioner Dave Nigel, and including youth representative Barry Newton, and Commissioners Al Valez and Dick Liberty.

Mrs. Sandkulla also reported on work of a subcommittee in finding a site for a motorcycle park. The commissioners backed her resolve in urging the County Park and Recreation Commission to exert every effort to locate such a site in this area.

$2,500 Claim Against S.S.F.

A $2,500 claim has been filed against the city of South San Francisco by a resident involved in a traffic accident with Fire Chief John Marchi February 10.

Mrs. Ann Nicolaou, of 2607 Cashan Court listed $555.19 in auto damage, $46 in tow and storage charges and $44 for ambulance service.

Apparently the remaining part of the $2,500 claim is for the "emotional grief and personal injury," including treatment at the South San Francisco Kaiser Hospital, she listed.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Grand and Chestnut Avenues as Marchi was on his way to a fire, reportedly with red lights and siren blaring.

In another claim against the city, both of which were denied and referred to the city's insurance carrier, the firm of Gribaldo, Jones and Associates is asking the city to pay $3,431.93 it says is owed for soil test and inspection work on the now-completed Westborough Boulevard extension. The firm also is asking $230.23 in interest.

Valley Crest Landscaping, Inc., on a low bid of $33,473.27, has been awarded the contract for landscape improvements in South San Francisco on South Airport Boulevard, Colma Creek Parkway and Foxridge School, for which the school district has contributed $10,000.

After hand-cranked ice cream, home-grown chicken is the favorite food here on the farm.

And we figure the folks in town should be able to get their chicken just as country-fresh as us. Since we're a local farm, we can get our Foster Farms chickens to your store in just hours.

So we do.

On the other hand, better than half of all the chicken sold in state comes from out-of-state.

And often takes as long as five days to get to your store.

That means, by the time a Foster Farms fryer is on your table, the other birds may still be on the road.

Next time you go shopping for chicken, make sure you pick one of ours. The local chicken.

Special Lamb Dinner
For The Shadows Patrons

Something unique will be offered on Mother's Day at The Shadows of San Mateo. Owner Dave Rasmussen and Executive Chef Peter Selaya put their heads together and came up with the idea to offer dinner parties of six, or more, a specially prepared Leg of Lamb. What's more, you will have the pleasure of watching the lamb being carved at your table by master carver Dave Rasmussen. Advance reservations must be made for this treat reserved only for parties of six, or more. Dinner service from 3 p.m. A special menu will also be in effect. . . Enrico Romano, who owns and operates Romano's Italian Restaurant in picturesque Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, is famed throughout the Coast-side for his pizzas. These mouth-watering delicacies, which come heaped with loads of the most favorite ingredients in only the style Romano can achieve, are moderately priced and can be ordered to go. If, however, you don't feel like taking them home, money over into the dining area and eat one there, or try one of Enrico's superb Italian family-style dinners. The Tanforan Park Garden Restaurants in San Bruno will be open as usual for Mother's Day dining, reports Don Sneider, general manager of the restaurant complex. The Sunday serving hours will be as usual — open from 12 noon to 5:30 p.m.

SPECIAL FEATURE — George Hamilton and Teddy Brown of the dynamic George 'n' Teddy team will be the headliners at Whiskey Hill, Burlingame, Friday and Saturday night announced new Whiskey Hill owner, Pete Brallier, who also owns the Peninsula chain of Round Table Pizza Parlors.

The Ranch Inn Plans
For Champagne Brunch

A Mother's Day feast that should draw a record number of diners is being planned at the Royal Coach Motor Hotel in San Mateo. Billed a "Royal Buffet," it will be served in the Coach and Horses dining room from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. There will be three main entree choices: Roast Tom Turkey, Baked Virginia Ham, or Steamship Round of Beef. Dinner includes salad, dessert and beverage. Children's menu also available. . . Nick Sbarra, co-owner of the New Southern restaurant, says they expect families from all over the Bay Area for Mother's Day dining. Service will begin at 1 p.m., and mothers can be treated to one of several delicious Southern-style entrees. Many reservations are already logged in the filling-fast book. . . Jim Hazlette, general manager of The Ranch Inn, located in the Serramonte Shopping Center, has announced plans for the grandest Mother's Day celebration in the restaurant's history. A Champagne Brunch will be served from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mother's Day dinner will be served from 12 noon; prices will include complimentary champagne. Large groups can be accommodated easily. Call for early reservations.

Finocchio's Elton Paris' Spectacular Wardrobe

Finocchio's, which features the world's greatest female impersonators, has a "new" Elton Paris in its hit revue. Elton, who established himself as a droll comedian and disdained the glamorization used by most female impersonators, now draws "ohs" and "ahs" from the audiences with his spectacular wardrobe. His career began in USO shows during World War II, and he is now a regular entertainer at Finocchio's, where four shows are presented nightly. . . Prime Ribs of Beef (the house specialty) plus lobster, steaks and various continental dishes will be among the menu entrees to please all mothers and their families on Mother's Day at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City. Reservations are always wise when dining at this award-winning restaurant, which is much favored by those talking in Circle Star Theater shows. It's also a popular rendezvous for the stars headlining there. . . The Airport Plaza Hotel in Millbrae boasts of having one of the largest banquet rooms on the Peninsula. The huge upstairs ballroom can accommodate up to 1500 persons, which makes it ideal for conventions. . . Glamorous dessert and mellow old wines seem to befit important days like Mother's Day. At L'Auberge you can dazzle Mom with flaming Cherries Jubilee, Souffle Grand Marnier or Chocolate or Crepes Flambe Suzette. Their champagne list is one of the best.

Skyliner Open Mother's Day

Ken Morin and his Skyliner restaurant crew will be on tap for the large Mother's Day dinner crowds, with service from 1 p.m. A special menu will be featured at this popular Daly City spot located in the Skyline Shopping Center. Five entrees will give everyone a taste preference, and dinners include baked potato, vegetable, bread, coffee and dessert. . . Mother's Day is a Family Affair at the San Francisco Hilton Inn (in case you've forgotten, Mother's Day is May 14). The family can take Mom into the Garden Room for a special Buffet Brunch.

"All-American Breed"
Bay Meadows Feature

Speed, versatility and gentleness are the hallmarks that have earned Quarter Horses the title "All-American Breed." The Quarter Horse is a half-ton of greased lightning on the race track, a beauty in the show ring, a must on any cattle ranch and the undisputed star of countless movie and television epics. Without him, the West might never have been won. Enjoy night Quarter Horse racing now at Bay Meadows, Tuesday's through Saturdays. Dinner is served from 6:30 p.m. as well as cocktails. . . The merits of Fred and Jerry Rapp's South San Francisco Holiday Inn are currently being discussed in the state of Montana. While on a recent goodwill tour of California, the Governor of Montana and nine staff members were overnight guests at this well-appointed complex. Needless to say, they were very pleased with the lodging accommodations, the food and fine service. . . Stanley Pollard of Ambassador Tours entertained his office staff at a recent dinner meeting at the Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco. The dinner menu here includes an impressive array of entrees. If your appetite is not up to the full dinner, entrees alone may be ordered for a reasonable figure. The wine list is representative of fine foreign and domestic bottlings, including some deserving Italian vintages.

Special Treat Mother's Day
At The Iron Gate

Earlybirds are already making reservations for Mother's Day dinner at the Iron Gate, the newly-opened gourmet restaurant in Belmont. Chef Ed Zago's special Holiday menu will feature traditional Mother's Day favorites like roast turkey and baked Virginia ham, plus prime ribs, steaks and a tempting selection of gourmet Continental specialties. Prices will be moderate, and children will dine for half-price. Iron Gate will be open from 3 p.m. on Mother's Day to accommodate the many families who prefer an early dinner. . . The next time you dine at Bruno's in the Mission, take a good look at the size of their plates, which are specially ordered to accommodate a whopping serving of your menu choice. Whether it's meat, fish, poultry, pastas, even ham 'n' eggs, there is no skimping at Bruno's. Luncheon and dinner servings come out of the kitchen in bountiful fashion expertly prepared by a master chef, then courteously served in an atmosphere conducive to enjoyable dining out. . . Phil Lehr's Steakery, open seven evenings a week, is a popular dinner stop for theatergoers. It's within easy walking distance of ten downtown San Francisco theaters, and has ample parking at the door.

Lake Tahoe? Go Park Ave. Tours

Summer is vacation time for thousands of Peninsula residents. But if yours isn't scheduled until late in the season, try a mini-vacation with a weekend jaunt to Reno or Lake Tahoe. And to save money, make certain you call the Park Avenue Tours office in San Mateo. They can help you plan your trip, whether it's up and back in the same day or for the weekend. There are bonuses and refunds upon your arrival. . . The Blue Peacock (located in the King's Bowl complex) in Millbrae will be open and serving on Mother's Day. Owner Phyllis Alloto will swing open the restaurant doors at 10 a.m. Look for several Mother's Day menu specials. . . It figures to be a busy Mother's Day for Pacifica's restaurant-owning Gust family, with all three of their Rockaway Beach restaurants bustling with business. If you're taking an early-day trek along the scenic coast, why not plan to have breakfast at Nick's restaurant and lounge and get the day off to a good start. And you might keep in mind that The Moonraker, just across the street, is now serving a special Sunday Brunch from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Enjoying regal dishes prepared in regal style is a great way to pamper mother. For a different approach to Mother's Day dining, visit the Papagayo Room, where zesty Mexican dishes are presented with imagination. A fine introduction to Mexican cuisine for the uninitiated.
